Collateral Risk Network 2025 Valuation Visionary Award and Recognition Press Release

The Collateral Risk Network (CRN) announced today that Elizabeth Green (Liz), Head of Digital Solutions for Candescant Capital Ventures, has been voted as the CRN 2025 Valuation Visionary. The CRN established this annual award sixteen years ago to recognize the person who demonstrates leadership, innovation and professionalism and who strives to better the industry for their peers.

Since 2009, Liz has worked tirelessly as an advocate and champion for property and valuation data standards. She has led committees across several trade associations including MISMO, ECCMA, the Open Geospatial Consortium and the CRN. Liz has been at the forefront ensuring the valuation needs of consumers, appraisers, AMCs and mortgage lenders are well-represented. The development of data standards plays a critical role in turning data into information to improve communication, streamline processes, and leverage modern technology such as advanced analytics and artificial intelligence.

Joan Trice, Founder and President of the CRN said, “Liz’s willingness to share her knowledge and talents to further industry collaboration has made her a go-to expert for data standards in our industry”. Liz describes herself as a mortgage technologist with a passion for appraisal. Ultimately, she says her inspiration is furthering the dream of homeownership through the power of data. “I am truly honored by this recognition from my industry and to be in the company of the previous Valuation Visionaries who are mentors and friends and who have helped me so much in my career”. The CRN will be presenting Ms. Green with the award at Valuation Expo 2025 during the CRN event.
